PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1880.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried BROWN'S IRON BITTERS as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

ADORAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.]

CALIFORNIA.

A Mother and Five Children Poisoned.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—It was reported at the Coroner's office late this afternoon that a family named Sullivan, residing in a small house on Castro street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth, had been poisoned; that two of the five children—one 1 year old and the other aged about 6 years—had died, and the mother and three remaining children were dangerously sick. Three physicians hurried to the house, and there discovered the rooms filled with crowds of neighbors, who were doing all possible for Mrs. Sullivan and the three surviving children, who were writhing in agony. In an adjoining room were two children just dead. The prompt application of remedies effected good results in a short time, and all but one child showed signs of recovery. The exception, however, is not expected to recover. It was learned that the family had partaken of fish last Friday, and on the succeeding day all were attacked with vomiting. The matter taken from their stomachs was free from all poisonous substances, and it was believed, from the fearful spasms and convulsions, that the survivors had taken the poison into their systems.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—The condition of Mrs. Sullivan and her two children, who were poisoned, but did not die, was quite critical at a late hour to-night. It is thought, however, that they will survive. The poisoning was caused by eating a quantity of herrings which Mr. Sullivan bought from a fish peddler last Friday. A portion of the fish was eaten for supper on Friday. Soon after eating the mother and children complained of feeling sick, and continued to grow worse until to-day, when two of the children died. The case will be thoroughly investigated by the Coroner to-morrow.

An Old Land Case Settled.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—In the land case of Charlotte Hayner vs. John A. Stanly and others, in which judgment was given for the defendants by Judge Sawyer several months ago, a stipulation was to-day filed in the United States Circuit Court that no appeal from the judgment will be taken. The case involved the title to a tract of land in Napa county, a portion of the Entre Napa ranch. In 1836 the ranch was granted by the then Governor of California to Nicholas Higuera. On November 13, 1847, he conveyed a portion, which land is that in controversy, to Mateo Fallon. The latter conveyed his portion to Julius Martin, who obtained title in 1856. Edward Stanly, prior to December, 1857, obtained the title of Fallon and Martin. In 1852 Nicholas Higuera conveyed the land to one Ramon de la Riva, excepting from the conveyance all lands previously sold. Subsequently the grantees under Riva obtained a confirmation of the grant, and in 1879 patents were issued for the same. In 1857 Edward Stanly commenced suit in the Napa District Court against the Riva deed claimants, they being in possession, and obtained judgment. The questions submitted were whether, after the suit and decision of the suit in Napa, the case was res adjudicata or not, and whether the patent of Martin was not conclusive against the younger patent, his being the elder. It was held that the judgment in the case was final and conclusive, and the patent of the plaintiff in that case being the senior, the United States had no jurisdiction to interfere.

The Eureka Abduction Affair.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—The charge of abduction against Frank W. Dearborn, the commercial drummer, for enticing Miss Carrie Vance from her home in Eureka, was dismissed in the Police Court to-day on motion of Prosecuting Attorney Blaney, there being no evidence against him. Miss Vance, who had been held as a witness, was also discharged and left the City Prison in company with her father and other relations. The young lady will return home, having had enough experience of San Francisco.

Street Car Accident—Assault to Murder—Suit Transferred.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—To-day a gentleman named Lamb, son of Judge Lamb, while attempting to board a Valencia-street car, was very seriously injured. He was thrown to the ground, and his head and face badly cut and bruised. There was profuse hemorrhage, and the man is thought to have sustained internal injuries.

A man named G. W. Morgan was arrested to-night on a charge of assault to commit murder, and is now in custody. He is charged with having made a most murderous assault on a young blacksmith Monday night, who owns a shop on the San Bruno road.

The suit brought by Carnie W. Beach against J. B. Cooper et al., Directors of the Alexander Mining Company of Grantsville, Nye county, Nevada, to secure an accounting of the profits, alleged to have been fraudulently misappropriated, and to enjoin the collection of an assessment, has been transferred from the Superior to the United States Circuit Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—This afternoon a little girl named Jennie Raphael, living at No. 9 Taylor street, while playing on the street, was knocked down and run over by a wagon and very severely injured.

Owing to a death in the family of one of the jury in the trial of Carl Johansen, the Norwegian sailor, charged with murdering Saunders, the case was continued by the Court.

Verdict for Defendant—Libel Filed—Coin and Wool from Australia—A Disgusted Captain.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—In the case of D. Heffman, an action to recover $50,000 damages from the City Railroad Company for personal injuries sustained, a verdict was rendered to-day in Department Two for the defendant.

Seamen have filed a libel against the British ship Coringa in the United States District Court, to recover a certain sum claimed as wages.

The steamship City of Sydney, which arrived here to-day from Australia, brought in coin $938,668 18, and a large quantity of wool.

Capt. Roper, of the British tramp steamer Anger Head, who had such an unpleasant experience several months ago in connection with bringing over Chinese to this port, is now plying his vessel between Hongkong and the Cape of Good Hope. He evidently intends to keep his vow of never setting his foot again on American soil.

Advices from Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 28th.—The steamer City of Sydney, from Sydney, via Auckland and Honolulu, arrived to-day, bringing the following advices:

SYDNEY, November 1st.

The British ship Northampton struck a rock at Port Hacking, and was towed into Botany bay and beached. She was afterwards successfully floated, and brought to Sydney for repairs.

The steam collier Marioria, heavily laden, foundered during a heavy gale off the Botany Heads. All on board, numbering seventeen, were lost, with one exception.

A splendid rainfall is reported throughout the country, over seven inches having fallen. This has been beneficial to all interests.

Sir William MacArthur and William Forster, late Agent-General, died suddenly.

The Queensland Assembly have asked a quarter of a million for immigration; also $60,000 for two gunboats.

WELLINGTON, November 4th.

The actual revenue of the half year ended September was $1,683,386—more than $62,000 over the estimate. Expenditures, $1,689,102—more than $5,000 below the estimate. The revenue does not include the half year's proportion of the property tax still uncollected, which is estimated to realize $150,000 for the year. The expenditures include $764 825 for interest on loans and the sinking fund.

Wright declined the Postmaster-Generalship.

Peculiar Case of Grand Larceny.

CHICO, November 28th.—To-day a peculiar case of grand larceny was developed. A man and his wife went into a store in this city, and while waiting to be served were looking around a pile of clothing, and discovered a sum of money—$245—which had been temporarily laid down, appropriated it and walked off. The loss was soon discovered by the storekeeper, and upon seeing the party accused them of the theft; but they denied all knowledge of it. They were both arrested, when they acknowledged the corn and gave up the coin, pleading that the temptation was too strong for them to resist. The parties are well connected, and the matter, by the leniency of the storekeeper, may be hushed up; but they have got themselves into a bad fix, and it looks as if the law must take its course.

A Chinese Murderer Captured.

MERCED, November 28th.—Ah Kee, the boss highbinder of the gang who murdered a Chinese merchant at Borden, Fresno county, two weeks since, was captured here yesterday evening by Fred. Gardenhire. Ah Kee was fully armed and made desperate efforts to escape.

Annual Field Trials of the Gilroy Rod and Gun Club.

GILROY, November 28th.—The second annual field trials of the Gilroy Rod and Gun Club were inaugurated yesterday. There were seventeen entries, as follows: All aged stakes—Daisy, by D. M. Ryle; Rock, by T. Hilderbrand; Count Warwick, by H. M. Briggs; Don, by E. Leavesley; Belle, by H. H. Briggs; Juno, by Leavesley; Jim, by W. Hideman. The puppy stake—King, by J. L. Nikle; Tip, by I. G. Messick; Duke, by E. Leavesley; Max, by Frank Abell, of Portland; Foxall, by Bybie, of Portland; Red Bess, by Abell; Mollie Darling, by Leavesley; Major and General, by T. Hilderbrand; Silk, by H. M. Briggs. The alleged stakes were concluded to-day, and prizes were won as follows: Daisy first prize, Belle second prize, Count Warwick third prize. The judges were D. M. Ryle, H. H. Briggs and L. G. Horton. George Holloway and H. D. Bartlett acted as judges during the running of Ryle's and Briggs' dogs. To-day one brace in the puppy stakes was run. The trials will be concluded to-morrow. Considerable interest is manifested, and the attendance to-day was large, and birds were plentiful.

ARIZONA.

Villainous Tramps—The Sonora Governorship.

TUCSON, November 28th.—Two tramps outraged a middle-aged Mexican woman this morning at 9 o'clock near the old gas works. She could not describe them very well. So far ten tramps have been arrested on suspicion.

The Star's Hermosillo special says that Vice-Governor A. Escalante, who had taken the place of Carlos Ortiz, has resigned. His action is attributed to the interference of General Bernardo Reyes in the affairs of the State. Don Cyrilo Ramirez has been appointed Governor ad interim by the President of the Mexican Republic until some solution to the present intricate State affairs can be arrived at. It is reported that Reyes has been recalled, and leaves at the end of the week.

NEVADA.

CARSON, November 28th.—In the special election here to-day to decide between the County Clerk candidates, Hatch (Rep.) won by 78 majority.

OREGON.

The Alleged Cruelty at Sea.

PORTLAND, November 28th.—With regard to the cruelty to Gorman, a sailor aboard the Josie Troop, Captain Reynolds, of the American ship Highland Light, said to an Oregonian reporter that Gorman, who came in his ship from Guaymas, refused to speak of the affair to the Astoria reporters. Gorman told substantially the following story to the first officer of the Highland Light: "I shipped with the Troop at Guaymas, and when I came aboard the ship I had a quart of whisky with me. The mate told me I could not bring the whisky aboard. I said I would not misuse it, but he refused to let me keep it. We then began quarreling, and the first and second mates thumped me quite hard. I made up my mind that I did not want to stay with that ship any longer, so I jumped overboard and swam ashore." Captain Reynolds says Gorman is an excellent seaman, and behaved well on the passage from Guaymas to Astoria.

THE SITUATION IN FRANCE.

The political situation in France is represented as menacing. There are certainly many causes of dissatisfaction there, and there are many sources of disaffection. But for all this it does not follow that anything serious is to be apprehended. The great mass of the French people are beyond any doubt in favor of peace and order. Paris is no longer the head of the country. It is no longer possible for a Revolution to be established there, and thence to rule France. The fate of the Commune shows what would be the end of any rising of Anarchists, and there is no other element at present prepared to attempt a violent overthrow of the Government. The policy of the Grevy administration has not been strong, but it may be said to have followed the feeling of the country. The Egyptian policy was certainly suggested, if not dictated, by the country. It must be remembered that at present it is no longer Paris which rules France; it is the country which governs Paris. The financial blunders of the Administration have hurt it seriously, no doubt, and this with the conservative elements. But any menace of revolution would bring all these elements to the support of the Government, and the army can be relied upon to maintain the republic as against any pretensions at all likely to be set up by revolutionists.

MRS. LANGTRY AT NEW YORK.

We do not believe the dispatch which states that Mrs. Langtry has not been invited into New York society. If she has not gone into that society it has probably been because she could not find time for it. But New York society has changed very suddenly if it would not be delighted to entertain Mrs. Langtry, or any other foreigner with such credentials. Mrs. Langtry, moreover, has been accustomed to move in so much more "distinguished" circles than those of New York that the leaders of fashion in the latter place would only make themselves ridiculous by refusing to receive her. In fact we have no doubt that if she has not been in society there, and if society is really making any complaint in the premises, it is a case of sour grapes.

THE COAL OIL QUESTION.

There is no necessity for treating the coal oil question in an hysterical manner. It is not a great, though it might be termed a burning question. The community has a perfect right to insist that it shall be protected against all extra and unnecessary dangers. At present there is a city ordinance which does not secure any protection at all, since it permits everybody to keep five hundred gallons of coal oil without observing any precautions. We think it can be demonstrated that coal oil is capable of being stored in considerable quantities safely. Of course, however, such demonstration ought to be made. But this is done in scores of cities at the present time, and the fact that coal oil is not treated by the underwriters as an extra-hazardous risk proves that practical experiment has not thus far confirmed the common belief in its dangerousness. The other day we suggested, as a fit method of securing the public against danger, that the Fire Commissioners and the Board of Underwriters should be empowered to draw up regulations for storing and handling coal oil, and that such regulations should be put in force by the Trustees. We have seen no reason since to prefer any other proposition. We do not believe that it is necessary to the safety of the city that all the coal oil should be stored outside the corporate limits. We believe that if proper precautions are used it can be stored anywhere without more danger than is inseparable from large stocks of dozens of inflammable substances. There has been a great deal of very wild and extravagant talk about this matter, but there is no occasion for that kind of treatment. The public have no desire to put any of our business men to unnecessary inconvenience, while they on their part must recognize the necessity of taking adequate precautions. The present ordinance regarding the storage of coal oil is of no use as a protection to the community; but if the Trustees will substitute for it one providing for the application of well-considered precautions, the matter can be settled without any trouble.

LOGAN AND GRANT AND PORTER.

It is not at all probable that Logan's attempt to refute General Grant's argument in behalf of Fitz John Porter will have the desired effect. Logan stands now almost alone in his attitude of unremitting hostility to Porter. General Grant's recent article on the case will be the more convincing because he frankly and in a very manly and honorable way admits that he himself for seventeen years held to Logan's view of the matter, and that he changed his mind very reluctantly, and only in response to proofs of Porter's innocence which as an honest man he found it absolutely impossible to resist. Now it is very well known that Grant is a man of singular tenacity of opinion, and it follows that when such a man finds it necessary to review opinions which he held steadfastly for seventeen years, the reasons which moved him must have been very powerful. As to what Logan says about Lincoln and Garfield and others, it is irrelevant. Lincoln never had the opportunity of examining the case dispassionately. He was altogether deceived and misled by Pope's misrepresentations. Many years had elapsed after Lincoln's death before that second inquiry was held which developed the facts upon which Porter's innocence is predicated. Logan has, we think, only succeeded in demonstrating that he himself refuses to open his mind to new considerations and facts. It may further be observed that so careful a writer as Professor Swinton, in his recently published new edition of his "Campaigns of the "Army of the Potomac," has found it necessary to accept the theory of Porter's blamelessness. In short it may be said that all the highest authorities are on the side of Porter in this controversy, and that Logan does not represent what can be characterized as either an intelligent or an unbiased opinion.

WEED AND MORGAN.

A statement by the late Thurlow Weed relative to the notorious Morgan abduction case, has been published, but it cannot be said to throw any new light upon that episode. Thurlow Weed can only say that he got into personal trouble through writing about Morgan. He did not appear to know any more about the mystery than the rest of the world. The Morgan case is now quite generally believed to have been a case of murder as well as abduction. At least all the evidence ever obtained points strongly in that direction. The only difficulty in the matter is the difficulty of understanding why the Masons should have been so terribly excited at the prospect of an expose of their rites and ceremonies. There is now comparatively little mystery about these things. It is generally understood that there are no tremendous and blood-curdling mysteries connected with Masonry, but that its ceremonial is somewhat fantastic, and symbolical to an elaborate extent. We presume that it would be quite impossible at this day to create any excitement by the publication of the alleged secrets of the fraternity, or of any other secret society. But the Morgan book almost caused a revolution, and it is greatly to be feared that it led to the commission of a great crime.

THE FALSE PROPHET.

It is reported that the mysterious False Prophet, who for the last twelve months has been hovering on the horizon, as it were, has been defeated, and, as one account says, taken prisoner. It is not said who has accomplished this feat, but the presumption is that if the fact be as stated it is the work of Colonel Abd-el-Kader, for he is the only commander at present in the Soudan who is capable of any serious fighting. If indeed the False Prophet has been captured, it is unlikely that he will ever see Lower Egypt, for in such a case his captors would be very apt to dispatch him with short notice, in order to prevent future complications. Of course, too, his death under such circumstances would convince all the Faithful that he really had been a false prophet, for there is only one way by which an eastern prophet can demonstrate the genuineness of his mission, and that is by success. Had Mohammed been killed when his cause was still weak, one of the great religions of the world would have aborted. For the Oriental races respect nothing so much as power, and this is one reason why Christianity never has appealed to them successfully.

THE Reno Gazette has unearthed a conundrum which it gives up in this wise: "Why anyone should expect the newspaper publisher to be more generous in squandering his substance than other business men, is something that cannot be accounted for." And then it goes on to moralize on a possible answer to the puzzle.

THE People's Cause advocates the passage of a law by the next Legislature taxing every person at least $100 a year for the privilege of carrying concealed weapons.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

The Opposition to Kellogg.

NEW ORLEANS, November 28th.—The returns from the Third Congressional District were finally completed to-day. The State Canvassers threw out Assumption and St. Mary's parishes, on the ground of informality in the returns. The former gave Kellogg 1,130 majority, and the latter 1,891 majority, leaving him still about 2,000 majority. Governor McEnery refused to issue a certificate to Kellogg, on the ground of non-residence in the district or State, and grants him until Monday to submit a brief and evidence. Kellogg prepared a statement, showing that he came to the State in the spring of 1865; that he was the sixth man registered under the military reconstruction in 1876 in the parish of Orleans. He has since constantly registered and voted in the State; has been during his residence four years Governor of the State and ten years United States Senator, and still is Senator; has been recognized repeatedly as Governor and Senator by both the national and State governments; has large planting interests in Iberia parish, in the Third District. When he ceased to be Governor, his household goods were removed from New Orleans, the then State capitol, to the parish of Iberia, in his district, where he has since and now resides, and where he is a registered voter.

The Transit of Venus.

WASHINGTON, November 28th.—Professor Harkness, of the United States Transit of Venus Commission, requests the publication of the following: "There are many persons scattered over the country who have telescopes, and would be glad to observe the contacts during the coming transit of Venus if they had any means of obtaining Washington time. The Western Union Telegraph Company has most generously agreed to give wide distribution to the noon time signals from the Naval Observatory December 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. As this service will be wholly gratuitous on the part of the telegraph company, its officers request all persons who intend to make observations of the transit to immediately notify the nearest Western Union Telegraph office, as the transmission of signals will involve the use of many thousand miles of wire, and the making up of many special circuits, all of which must be planned beforehand. Furnishing these signals free of cost to all observers is a contribution to science on the part of the Western Union Company which will be appreciated by everyone interested in astronomy."

Prayers Invoked in Behalf of Science.

PHELPS (N. Y.), November 28 h.—Professor Brooks, of the Red House Observatory, in behalf of astronomical science and astronomers, asks that prayers be offered next Sunday in all the churches for fair weather on the 6th of December next, the date of the transit of Venus. The solution of the sublimest problem known to science is to be attempted on that occasion, the opportunity for which will not occur again for many years. Millions of dollars and months of valuable time have been expended in preparation for this great event.

Thurlow Weed's Will.

NEW YORK, November 28th.—Thurlow Weed's will has been made public. The estate is valued at between $500,000 and $600,000. To her he bequeaths the house No. 12 West Twelfth street, with all of its contents of furniture, books, papers, pictures, plates, etc. Several minor bequests of tokens of remembrance are made to old friends and institutions in New York and Albany, in which Weed was especially interested. The bulk of his property, real and personal, after the minor legacies, is bequeathed in nine equal shares to his three daughters and his grand children.

The Chicago Murder Trial.

CHICAGO, November 28th.—In the Sturla murder trial the prosecution rested to-day, and the defense began taking the testimony of friends and acquaintances of the prisoner, to show that she was of unsound mind, feared ghosts, talked wildly, and had strange conceits. Evidence was also introduced tending to show that Stiles treated her in a most brutal manner, offering her physical violence on several occasions.

Narrow Escape from a Serious Disaster.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.), November 28th.—A sad disaster was narrowly escaped at Cayuga, on the New York Central, where some of the most horrible accidents in the history of railroads have been witnessed. The engine on the New York express ran into a drawbridge, through the same carelessness that has characterized the management of this bridge before. The forward part of the engine rests on the deck of a canal boat in the draw. No lives were lost.

They were intimate friends, and the young ladies well-known throughout the country. The cause of the killing was the allegation by Jane, a sister of deceased, that Sallie had gossiped about her. Deceased attempted to pull Sallie off the horse, when she jumped off and stabbed Melinda, severing the jugular vein. Four jurors were secured to-day.

Color Line in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, November 28th.—Mrs. Nash, who confesses she had a small streak of Indian blood in her veins and is of French descent, is having trouble with the authorities of the Blair school, because they insist that her two sons are of negro birth. They certainly are of dark complexion, but their pedigree is clear, and the school teachers and pupils will undoubtedly have to come down, as the free-born Mrs. Nash has put her war paint on, and will go into Court, if necessary, to secure her rights.

FOREIGN NEWS.

House of Commons.

LONDON, November 28th.—Trevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland, stated in the House of Commons to-day that the speech of Davitt was under consideration. He said important communications were being exchanged with Dublin in regard to the preservation of peace.

Gibson (Conservative) moved an adjournment of the House in order to call attention to the question of Land Court values. All the Conservative members rose in support of the motion.

Trevelyan stated that two additional Land Commissioners will be attached to each Land Court in Ireland, in order to relieve the block of business.

Gladstone maintained his charges that the sub-commission had miserably broken down. He defended the changes in the organized Land Commission.

Lord Randolph Churchill charged that it was the renewal of the outrages in Ireland which had produced the change announced by Trevelyan. He concluded by asking who was the greater criminal, the man who, to avenge the conviction of a murderer, stabbed a juryman in the street, or he who, by favoring political agitation, corrupted and poisoned the source of justice and assassinated justice itself? [Cries of "Oh! Oh!"]

Gladstone refused a commission of inquiry into the condition of the Skye crofters.

DUBLIN, November 28th.—The meeting of the Privy Council to-day was the most protracted held by that body since the Fenian scare in 1867. The Lord Lieutenant presided. It was resolved to proclaim under operation the curfew section of the Repression Act, which authorizes the police to arrest all suspicious persons found on the streets between an hour after sunset and an hour before sunrise. The proclamation also agrees to offering a reward of £5,000 for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of Field's assailants, with the usual provisions of pardon and protection to the informers. The proclamation as posted states that the powers granted by the curfew law will be used only against persons believed to be engaged in criminal designs. In consequence of the assault upon Juror Field, special jurors request the Government to try political prisoners without juries.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

PHI-ALPHA ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment given by the Phi-Alpha Club at the Metropolitan Theater last evening was largely attended and proved very pleasing. The orchestra of the evening was new, being one section of a very promising local orchestral association. It was composed of B. L. Ball, first violin and leader; Lutie Hammer, second violin; Mr. Newman, bass; Mr. Terry, flute; F. Weil, clarionet; W. C. Lewis, first cornet; DeWitt Arnold, second cornet. The playing of these was a pleasant surprise to the auditors, who responded with warm applause. The instrumentation was vigorous, and superior in execution, and the selections were fresh and evidenced good musical judgment. With two exceptions those who appeared on the stage are well known here, and their capacities have long been fully understood, and no comment is called for further than to say that they were very successful in their efforts. Mrs. Carter sang "The Vidette," and for an encore gave the Scotch ballad, "Sands o' Dee." The Misses Henry, prettily costumed, and with their mother as accompanist, sang a humorous duet, and, being recalled, gave a second like selection. Miss Annie Gleason, of San Francisco, sang "The Carnival of Venice," and, in response to an encore, "The Maid of Dundee." In the second part she sang the Polonaise from "Mignon." The young lady received from the auditors a very complimentary recognition of her ability. She has a voice of much strength and promise. Mrs. Pinkham sang "O Luce di quest anima," and, with Mrs. Carter, gave the duo from "Norma," "Take Them, I implore Thee." Miss Milly Gregory, a young lady of this city, appeared for the first time as a harp soloist, and with pronounced success; somewhat embarrassed when first facing the footlights and a brilliant auditory, but she recovered her composure on being recalled, and played on an exceedingly fine instrument with a skill evidencing a cultured taste. She gave at first "The Last Rose of Summer" with variations, and secondly, "The Nymphs' Revel." Miss Jennie Woods, in costume, sang "The Beggar Girl," and was recalled, and her dramatic ability recognized. Ten of the members of the Phi-Alpha Club then appeared in a neat costume, and give "The Umbrella Drill." It was well done and amusingly odd, but in no wise equalled the broom drill given by the same club last spring. Between parts one and two a "tableau" was given—more properly a pantomime—in which characters representing royalty, sculpture, seclusion, music, fame, beauty, love, wealth, knowledge, intemperance, presented temptations to a young girl, but she refused them all, to embrace at last a stately female figure representing religion. It was a very pretty and effective scene. Miss Amelia Bohl was accompanist for the evening.

CONFESSION.—A burglary was attempted on the night of the 15th instant at the residence of Otis Spencer on L street, the details of which have been published in the RECORD-UNION. Upon receiving notice at the station-house, Chief Karcher and officer Jackson went at once and made an examination of the premises where the attempt at burglary had been committed. Officer Jackson was afterward specially detailed to work up the case, and he made another inspection of the building, and arrived at the conclusion that the deed was committed by some person who had a key to the house. Suspicion pointed to one of the lodgers, a man named William Morrison, and through whose room the would-be burglar had apparently entered. The suspicion was strengthened by the fact that Morrison had not slept in the house that night, it being the first for a long time. Neither did he appear at the house for the two succeeding nights, although still in the city, and on the third day officer Jackson arrested the man. The case came up for examination the following day in the Police Court, and was continued till next Saturday. Morrison, who has since been confined in the City Prison, a few nights ago made a full confession. He said he did not think Mrs. Spencer would make any resistance or noise, and as he was masked he thought he would quietly obtain possession of her money. It was known that she had quite a sum, as she had that day collected the rents from the occupants of the house. Morrison's case will be called in the Police Court this morning, instead of waiting until Saturday.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.—The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Fire Commissioners was held Saturday evening, all members being present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. On motion the pay roll of the Department for the month of November, for the sum of $1,525, was allowed and ordered paid; also the following bills were duly audited: S. S. Nixon, $5; Chief Engineer Sullivan, $4; McElaney, $12 50; W. A. Ashley, $11 60; Calvyn & Chipman, $2; Bidwell & Cook, 90 cents; Parke & Lacey, $11 85; Baker & Hamilton, $1,175; Whittier, Fuller & Co., $2 50; R. A. Fiske, $80; Capital Gas Company, $22 80; Neubourg & Lages, $17 24; Ed. Coyle, $33 55; W. J. Irvine, $5; C. H. Krebs, 75 cents; Bee-Hive Store, $3 25; Jacob Greisel, $5 25; Wiezel & Son, $2 50; S. J. & J. M. Jackson, $5; J. W. Wilson, $22 50; P. J. Coffee, $2; Geo. Schroth, $37 87. Reports from the different foremen, on fires and alarms for the month of November, were received and placed on file. The following changes were made in the Department: Levi Drew, elected fireman of engine No. 2; John McManus, elected extraman of Hook and Ladder Company; John Sullivan, extraman of No. 2; David Barnes, extraman of No. 2; Frank, Daroux, engineer of No. 2, transferred to No. 1; Henry Comte, engineer, transferred to No. 2; Harry Bockrath, fireman of No. 2, transferred to No. 1; Chas. Gillespie, elected as steward of the Hays Truck House. There being no further business, the Board adjourned.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—A Democratic meeting, which had been called by the City Central Committee, was held last evening at the Court-house. The meeting was for the purpose of making nominations for School Directors, to be voted for at the election to be held next Monday. There was quite a large attendance. The assemblage was called to order by P. J. Harney, Chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee, and on motion he was elected Chairman of the meeting. Thomas Fox was chosen Secretary. The following nominations for School Directors were then made: First Ward, Joseph Hahn; Second Ward, I. S. Moore; Third Ward, Dr. H. L. Nichols; Fourth Ward, Thomas L. Acock. The nominations were declared the unanimous choice of the meeting for School Directors, and no further business appearing, the meeting adjourned.

A NEW SCHEME.—Information has been lodged at this office that two sharpers from San Francisco are in Sacramento "doing" the tradesmen of the city. Their plan of operations is to make a small purchase, and throw down a double eagle to be changed. Most frequently the salesman will count out the change on the counter, and one of the sharpers, who is skilled in sleight-of-hand, will manage to abstract and pocket one of the pieces; whereupon the other will remark, "Never mind the change, I'll pay the two bits," and push the change back to the merchant, who seldom recounts it. Strange as it may seem, it is said that this new "racket" works so well that the thieves have prospered upon it.

THE SCOTT MURDERERS.

Their Trial Yesterday—The Sentence—Remarks by the Court.

Yesterday Chas. O'Brien, alias Flynn, was arraigned in the Superior Court, Judge Paterson, of San Joaquin county, presiding, for the murder of Police Officer Scott, near the corner of Seventeenth and I streets, on the night of the 7th of December, 1878. The prisoner, through his counsel, Frank D. Ryan, asked to have the case continued on account of the absence of two important witnesses, of whom one resided near Georgetown, this county, and who had been subpenaed, and the other was in San Francisco, but up to the present time they had been unable to find him. An attachment was issued for the Georgetown witness, and the case then continued until this morning. The Court then took a recess until 2 o'clock, during which time the murderer and his counsel together with the attorneys and witnesses for the prosecution, held a long consultation in regard to the trial and its probable results. The prisoner, who in the meantime had carefully scanned the witnesses for the prosecution, and especially Deputy Sheriff William Conger, of Wells, Nevada, who, it appears, had arrested him on a charge of robbery about a month before the murder of officer Scott, made the discovery that officers Jackson and Harrison had woven a complete net-work of evidence for the prosecution, which, despite all efforts on his part, would send him to the gallows.

The Court convened at 2 P. M., and the case was reopened. The counsel for the prisoner withdrew the plea of not guilty made by O'Brien, and one was entered guilty of murder in the first degree. Wm. Anderson also arose and pleaded guilty to the same crime. The charge of murder against Thos. Hamilton, one of the murderers, and whose confession was published in full in the RECORD-UNION some months since, was dismissed and he was placed on the witness stand and testified to the circumstances which led to the murder of officer Scott. Officer Jackson and Dr. Deuel were also examined in relation to matters connected with the crime. Mr. Ryan, in addressing the Court, made an appeal for mercy on behalf of the prisoners. District Attorney Buckley then asked that the Court do not pronounce the death sentence upon the murderers. Judge Paterson then sentenced Anderson and O'Brien to the State Prison for life. In passing sentence upon Anderson the Court spoke as follows:

Anderson, you were indicted by the Grand Jury of the county of Sacramento on the 5th day of October, 1882, for the crime of murder, and subsequently you came into Court and entered your plea of not guilty. A time for the trial was set, and you came into Court this morning and your case was continued. This afternoon you have again come into Court, and stated that you wished to withdraw the plea you heretofore entered and to enter a plea of guilty of murder of the first degree, as charged in the indictment. The Court has received some evidence on that plea and is satisfied; and it is found that you did, as charged in this indictment, commit the crime of murder of the first degree. You have stated to the Court that you desire to waive time and take your sentence now. What cause, if any, have you now to show why the sentence of the Court should not be pronounced upon you?

Anderson—I have none.

The Court—Have you anything to say?

Anderson—No, sir.

The Court—The evidence that has been given here before the Court, taken in connection with your own plea, is the strongest exemplification of the enormity of the offense which you have committed. Nothing that I could say to you here, or to anybody in the Court-room, it seems to me, would make a deeper impression than the fearful statements that have been made by one of the participants in this enormous crime. It seems to me that if it had been apparent to the men who committed that deed, and to yourself who joined in it, that the man whom they slayed in cold blood was an officer of the peace, a man who was constantly in such danger, and who put his life between the people of this city and such characters, it would be a shameful abuse of discretion for the Court to do anything other than sentence you to that most fearful of sentences—death itself. But as the representative of the people has well said here, it may be well considered, not only as to the policy, but as to the question of discretion whether such a penalty should now be imposed upon you. To you it can make no difference whether you are young in years or old. That you are young will make your punishment all the more terrible, because you have before you so many long years of close confinement. I hope the time will come when justice will be so administered and that administration so upheld by the executive powers of the government that nothing but absolute proof of innocence will ever interfere with the sentence of the law in cases of this kind, so that he who commits a crime will know that if detected in it, either death or the life penalty will be as certain as the rising and setting of the sun. But in view of the fact in your case, Anderson, that you did not fire the fatal shot yourself; in view of the further fact that your evidence hereafter may be useful to the State in convicting the one who did slay that officer of the peace in cold blood; in view of the fact further, that you yourself, even guilty as you are, have manifested a disposition to assist the officers in ferreting out the perpetrators of this crime; and in view of the fact that you have assisted the administration of justice by your plea of guilty and have saved the county from the trouble and expense of a long and tedious trial, I will exercise the discretion that the Court has in this case, and shall make your sentence that of confinement in the State Prison for life. Therefore it is the sentence of the Court now that you be taken hence and confined in the State Prison of the State of California, at San Quentin, for the period of your natural life.

After the prisoner replied to the question as to whether he had anything to say why the sentence of the Court should not be passed, Mr. Jones, associate counsel for the prosecution, asked of the Court that the sentence of death be not pronounced.

The remarks made by the Court in passing sentence on O'Brien were in substance nearly the same as that in the case of Anderson, excepting in reference to the age of the prisoner, O'Brien being a much older man.

Hamilton was remanded to the custody of the Sheriff and will be returned to San Quentin, where he is serving a sentence for burglary committed in Napa county. About three years of the sentence is yet unsatisfied.

This murder, as above stated, was committed within a few days of four years ago. According to the confession of Hamilton, one of the murderers, it appears that about a week previous to the committing of the crime, he and Anderson were together in Marysville, but shortly left that place for Wheatland, where they were joined by Edwards and O'Brien, who had just come from the State of Nevada. They all started for Sacramento, and while en route, committed petty offenses at Lincoln and Roseville. At the latter place they boarded a freight train and stole a ride to Sacramento. While the train was passing the vicinity of Agricultural Park, the four jumped off and started into the city. Before arriving at the place where Scott was murdered they had agreed to "hang up" some one. While standing at the southeast corner of Seventeenth and I streets, they discovered a man walking along Seventeenth street. Edwards and Anderson stationed themselves on the sidewalk near the alley, and when Scott had stepped up to where they were standing, Edwards ordered the officer to raise his hands, which he refused to do, and made an attempt as if to draw a revolver. Edwards, who had Scott covered with a pistol, fired, killing him instantly. The assassins then ran up I street and out Nineteenth or Twentieth, to the upper Stockton road. They next made their appearance in Stockton, where they met an old convict by the name of Ivy, who gave them seven or eight dollars to pay their fare to Vallejo. According to Hamilton's story, they drifted over into Napa county, where they immediately set to work plundering houses and stealing everything they could lay hands upon. All four men were shortly afterward arrested for crimes committed in Sonoma county, and lodged in the Santa Rosa jail. From this place Edwards escaped, and has never been recaptured. The other three prisoners were placed on trial, convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to the State Prison for a term of years. In less than a month after the crime was committed Ivy told detective Gay in San Francisco who the murderers of officer Scott were. Gay then informed officers Jackson and Harrison, of this city, who immediately set to work gathering evidence to convict them of the crime of murder. During all these years officer Jackson has been engaged in gathering up threads of testimony here and there, with the assistance of detectives Harrison and Gilchrist, Chief Karcher and the officers of Sonoma county, until he had formed an unbroken chain from the time that Edwards and O'Brien, two of the murderers, left the State of Nevada and joined company with Anderson and Hamilton, their partners in crime, at Wheatland, down to within six hours of the trial, when the last link of evidence was completed and two of the blood-stained scoundrels sent to the State Prison for life. Edwards is still at large, but the officers have not given up hopes of his capture. Witnesses for the prosecution were voluntarily present yesterday from Utah, Nevada and Arizona, also quite a number from different parts of this State. There are universal expressions complimentary to officer Jackson for the persistency with which he has followed up this case. In the work he has visited several counties, some of the Territories, and took one trip to Omaha; only yesterday he returned from a trip to Truckee, by which he secured needed evidence to fasten the crime upon those charged irrevocably.

THE COAL OIL MATTER AGAIN.

The City Board of Trustees held a special meeting last evening for the purpose of considering the petition for the repeal of Ordinance No. 125, commonly known as the coal oil ordinance. A large number of insurance men were present, and a number of other citizens, as well as the representatives of the oil dealers. There was a full Board, Trustee Gutenberger having returned to the city.

Mayor Brown, in stating the object of the meeting, said the first duty of the Board was the protection of the citizens of the whole city; also that it was their desire to be as lenient as possible with the parties engaged in the oil traffic. He then said as one of the members was not present at the meeting Monday when the matter was discussed, he would ask that the subject be resumed from the beginning.

Joseph Steffens, a member of the firm of Whittier, Fuller & Co., then stated that the petition for the repeal had been presented because the ordinance conflicted with the interests of a large business. He understood that a representative of one of the Boards of Fire Underwriters of San Francisco was present for the purpose of enlightening the Board of Trustees on the restrictions on the storage of oil in San Francisco, and also the light in which the subject was considered by insurance companies.

Edward Cadwalader then introduced C. M. Nichols, Surveyor of one of the Boards of Fire Underwriters of San Francisco, stating that he had been authorized to do so by the Sacramento Board of Fire Underwriters at a special meeting held in the afternoon. Mr. Nichols was interrogated by the Mayor, and stated that a long experience and a close study of the subject had made him conversant with the matter of explosive materials. He believed that the Sacramento ordinance to regulate the storage of oil was worse than none at all, as it allowed 500 gallons of kerosene to be stored, or the same amount of any of the other products of petroleum, some of which he stated were worse than "chain lightning." In San Francisco it had been thought necessary to specify the quality of the oil, and that 1,000 gallons of kerosene in tin cans that would stand a flash test of 110° Fahrenheit was allowed; that some of the other products were limited to 100 gallons, while those that were considered especially hazardous were only allowed to be stored in quantities in specially licensed warehouses. Mr. Nichols considered kerosene practically safe when stored by itself, the only trouble being in cases where there was sufficient fire to melt the tin cans. He also stated that standard kerosene would not emit a vapor of any kind, and that none of it would take fire under 130°. He spoke of a State law that was in force in many of the Eastern States, which required that a Commissioner be appointed for the purpose of testing the various kinds of burning fluids, and which prohibited the sale of all under a certain degree of fire-test. Mr. Nichols was interrogated in regard to a recent fire which occurred in New York—to which reference has already been made—and he replied that he understood the fire was started by an explosion of crude petroleum. He also said, in reply to a question, that two oil warehouses in San Francisco were insured at 1½ per cent.; that the rate on paint stock was 2 per cent.; on wholesale drug stores, 1¾ per cent., and newspaper offices, containing steam engines, 1¾ per cent.

After a few remarks by different persons present, a vote was taken by the Board on the question of granting the prayer of the petitioners, and it was lost by a unanimous vote.

Arrangements were then made for Mr. Nichols to meet the oil dealers and the City Attorney to-day, for the purpose of framing a new ordinance to be submitted to the Board of Trustees at the next meeting, and one that will be more satisfactory to all parties interested.

FIRE LAST NIGHT.—A fire broke out about 12 o'clock last night in the Golden Eagle stables, situated on the south side of K street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets. The building was totally destroyed, together with the contents. The building was owned by Railroad Commissioner-elect Carpenter, of El Dorado county. The loss on the building is estimated at $3,000. Whether there was any insurance could not be learned. The contents of the building were owned by James McNasser, of the Golden Eagle Hotel. It contained six horses, among which were two stallions named Silver Cliff and Ensign, and for which it is stated that the owner has refused an offer of $12,000; the other four horses being valued at $11,000; omnibuses, wagons, harness and hay, valued at $11,000, making a total loss to Mr. McNasser of $35,000. On this there is an insurance of but $3,500. The whole interior of the stable was in flames when the fire was discovered. No reason could be assigned last night for the breaking out of the fire. The only property saved was the large hotel omnibus, which was standing near the door. The fire department had the fire under complete control at 1 o'clock. The buildings on either side were saved. Mr. McNasser has been in Denver, Colorado, for the past fifteen months, but will arrive by the overland train this morning. This is the third extensive fire which Mr. McNasser has experienced in the past five years, the other two having been in Denver, and greater loss being sustained in either than that of last night.

THE "BUG CASE."—The case of the violation of the law providing for the disinfecting of fruit boxes, which was appealed to the Supreme Court, for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the Act establishing the Viticultural Commission, was on the calendar for argument on the 20th instant, and at that time was continued for hearing until last evening at 7 o'clock. JAMES McCOSH.

Mr. McCosh is a native of Ayrshire, Scotland, where he first saw the light in 1811. His natural aptitude for metaphysics and kindred studies received great encouragement in the universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh, at which he received his education. The second of these universities conferred upon him the honorary degree of A. M. for an essay on the Stoic philosophy, which delighted Sir William Hamilton, who moved the conferment of the honor upon him. His ordination as a minister in the Church of Scotland took place in 1835. His first pastorate was at Arbroath, and lasted four years. He then removed to Brechin, where, having seceded from the Established Church with Dr. Chalmers and the other founders of the Free Church of Scotland, he busied himself in the organization of that body. His appointment as professor of logic and metaphysics in Queen's College, Belfast, Ireland, took place in 1851. He was elected President of Princeton College, New Jersey, in 1868, since which time he has continued at the head of that institution. Dr. McCosh holds high rank as a writer on profound questions of mind and philosophy.

FREEHAND NOTES.

A CORRESPONDENT DIPS INTO FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

The False Prophet—Par y Giving—Balls and Revelry—Three Pretty Things in San Francisco

[Correspondence RECORD-UNION.]

SAN FRANCISCO, November 27, 1882.

This good gentleman who is beginning to be very much known by an expectant world as the False Prophet is decidedly the most picturesque figure of the hour, not prolific of the picturesque. The mental image of him, raiding fiercely through the Soudan at the head of a troop of mounted fanatics, his name and his "setting," under heavy suns and mighty skies, are all intensely Byronic. Would that Lord George might arise and book him. He will be crushed, too, in time, poor Prophet. Let us hope he will be killed, and not tamely capitulate and be tried, as they insist upon calling Arabi's post-bellum entanglement. And the very latest is that this wild rider has been in California. It is good to believe. As Edward Everett's son said that no man could be

QUITE A GENTLEMAN

Without living some portion of his days in a seaport, so it seems as if no renegade, wild, surging, lawless spirit could quite gain its full, fervent development without having at least once breathed the air of California. The story comes from Philadelphia. It is stated that early in 1800 a cargo of slaves from the Arabic-speaking regions of Northern Africa were sold among the Virginian planters, and they did not prove nice domestic characters either. A great many of them ran away to the North, and their descendants are believed to be in Fayette county, Pennsylvania. The Mohammedan negroes have thin lips, high foreheads, aquiline noses and only coffee-colored skins, so the False Prophet may be good-looking, which is such a prime necessity for a renegade hero. One of the slaves who escaped was a sheik and a priest with the glorious, unpronounceable name, Beyash El Asewah, which he tranquilly altered, for purposes of Occidental residence, to George Johnson. He had a wife for his sins. They lived in hiding for awhile, fearing recapture; even went to Canada, but returned to Pennsylvania and wandered from town to town there. At Connellsville, in 1830, his son Thomas was born. He is, it is claimed,

THE FALSE PROPHET

Himself. If so he must be fifty years old, which changes him from a Corsair to a Rochester. These Johnsons never relinquished the practice of the Mohammedan rites, and when, after many wanderings, including his California experience in 1849, Thomas Johnson crossed the Sahara with a caravan and took up his abode in the Soudan, his perfect knowledge of the Koran was a greater power among the people than even his familiarity with Western civilization. He became a leader, and at the time of the English invasion of Egypt proclaimed himself Iman Mahdi, the last prophet Allah shall send to quench all enmity to Islamism and rule the world. The defeat of Arabi is spoken of as a possible agent to swell the lists of the False Prophet's followers. It belongs to the traditional character of the looked-for Iman Mahdi to be possessed of worldly pomp, and victory must perch on his standard, the more spattered with blood of Christians and Jews the better. One wife was spoken of for Beyash El Asewash; his more fortunate son, the False Prophet, has a harem of 100, and the queen of this institution is an octoroon from Uniontown, Pennsylvania, who is likewise a descendant of the Arab slaves brought to Yorktown early in the century. Apropos of all this Egyptian imbroglio, the article in the RECORD UNION on the irony of events—by which Gladstone's policy was so very like to Beaconsfield's, that it was beginning to be extremely difficult to distinguish that opposition to force which William Ewart so long proudly boasted his chiefest characteristic—was the cause of much rejoicing in a small circle of Disraelites, so to speak, who deeply appreciate

THE WELL DESERVED SLAP

At the ecclesiastical premier, whose administration has just enough of the Tommy Goodchild flavor to be exasperating to the perverse provincial.

Meantime politics are the only wear, for conversation, "in ball-room, in parlor, in station," like the celebrated Major Gilfeather's choicest of choice aphorisms. The defeat—or the victory, the clean sweep, the look-out for the future, the retrospect, Butler's joy, Harrison's tears, Arthur's apprehensions, Blaine's pretensions "gone glimmering down the dream of things that were," and nearer home Messrs. Toohey, Maguire and Clough, euphonious trio! among the newly-elected judiciary. With so much talk of revolution one almost expects to see barricades. As yet, certainly, there are none. The Parisians always gave their most light-hearted revels during revolutions, and in that at least San Francisco is up to the revolutionary standard. Every one asserts, as with one voice, that the ball given at the Palace Hotel Tuesday night was a ball

TO BE REMEMBERED

For fun and choice arrangement. It was one of the many farewell entertainments that have been given to Miss Nina Platt, who went overland Saturday to join her father and mother in Rochester, where Dr. Platt has taken a church. "None of the bon ton there," said a young legal Mercutio in the exuberance of his delight at the ball, "and you can't think how well we got on without them." But he is a giddy youth to want to sacrifice soulful truths to epigram. The ball was really more than usually graced with pretty and pleasant women, and naive and witty and spontaneous as of yore was Miss Mollie Dodge, just come back from her Eastern visit, and more than welcome to every one who has the happiness to know her. Miss Crocker of Sacramento was also present to witness that Mercutio used his fancy as a source of inspiration. The parlor floor of the Palace was used for the reception, dancing and supper rooms, and the supper itself called forth wild expressions of approval, especially from the men, since it was served at small tables arranged for parties of four, and by trained servants in the proper rotation of delectable courses, and other faithful retainers were present with a bottle of sweet champagne in one hand and dry in the other, the flagons knotted up in napkins in the most delicious manner, while the attendant's torso resembled nothing more than the walking-beam of a steamboat as he struggled to keep the goblets brimming, as all Anacreontic verse assures us goblets should be when they are on their good behavior. A gentleman with a peculiarly happy faculty in turning neat sentences, once covered the supper question, and, so to speak, finished it. "It is so embarrassing," he murmured, "so unfair, to be suddenly required, at a party, to perform a waiter's duties with none of his experience."

I heard a letter read the other night from a young San Franciscan abroad, which impressed me more forcibly as a waste of valuable "copy" than anything of the sort I have ever heard. Letters from young San Franciscans abroad are, in fact, apt to be abundantly foolish. This was graphic to

A WONDERFUL DEGREE,

Lucidly transparent and brimming with interest. It was the impressions of a student of music when for the first time in the presence of Liszt and of Wagner, at a reunion at Wagner's house, Wahnfried, in Baireuth. Liszt was simple, dignified and priestly of mien; Wagner, satirical, effusive and what Americans call frisky, kissing the young and pretty women who came to pay their court to him as the great master, and otherwise manifesting the alleged eccentricity of genius. He is short and stout, and was described as being quite hidden from view when he walked away with Madame Materna, the heroically molded prima donna who has grappled so successfully with the soprano parts in Wagner's music dramas.

There are three pretty things in San Francisco just now. There are, in fact, several, but these three have "fallen into my eyes," as the German idiom phrases it. Pretty only covers two of them, and the third is strange. The first two are

A VASE AND A PLAQUE

At Lawton's on Post street. The vase is the work of an amateur, Mrs. Jewett, and resembles somewhat the Limoges-Haviland ware in material and finish. It is about three feet in hight, and of a deep opaque greenish color. Over one of its shoulders, so to speak, is thrown a golden fish net, and where the meshes are dragged into acutely-angled diamonds it is bewitching. There are fish modeled on the jar and under the net, and well imitated, but fish are not my sympathy. The plaque is simply a dessert plate, not at all too good to eat good peaches upon, but exquisitely painted with a spray of a Cherokee rose, single and white, the background flushing sunset-wise from neutral tint to a delicate pink. The third object of art is a portrait, done in crayon, of Colonel Andrews, of the Diamond Palace, and hangs in the vestibule of that identical shop. The artist's name upon the picture is J. S. Booth, and, whether he has worked from a photograph or not, the completed work is strikingly effective. It is what one is expected to call, correctly or not, Rembrandtish. The highest light is brought to bear directly upon the profile, while the back of the head is in deep shadow. The hair is beautifully life-like in form and finish. Mr. Booth could make a good thing of a woman's face done in the same manner. PHILIP SHIRLEY.

The trial of James Smith, seaman on the ship Glory of the Seas on her recent voyage from New York to this port, on a charge of stabbing the colored cook of the vessel, George Williams, in the breast, was concluded in the United States District Court Monday. The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and recommended the man to the mercy of the Court.

Under the direction of Colonel Mendell, of the United States Engineer Corps, the lighthouse-tender Manzanita, Captain David Davies commanding, has taken soundings on the bar. It has been discovered that at the place where the wreck of the Escambia lies the water has increased in depth from five and a half fathoms to eight. An explanation for this is anxiously looked for by navigators and pilots.

District Board No. 5, the governing board in regard to trotting matters for the Pacific coast, met Monday afternoon and reviewed the decisions in the embryo stakes trotted at Oakland on the 15th instant. Two of the cases were adjudicated, viz: The protest in the case of Antevolo in the yearling race, and the award of the third heat to Bonnie in the three-year-olds. The protest was not sustained, and the decision of the judges in the case of Bonnie reversed. The latter ruling was that Bonnie should have the first and second heats, and Fred Arnold the third, and that the race be taken up from that point and finished on Saturday, the 9th of December, on the Oakland Trotting Park.

Louis Levy has brought suit in the Justices' Court against Mrs. Piercy to recover $169, said to be due on a $200 contract. Levy alleges that he was engaged by Mrs. Piercy to get certain evidence for her in the recent contest in the Probate Court for the guardianship of the child Viola Piercy, Mrs. Piercy agreeing to pay him $200 therefor, of which amount he has received $31. The defendant states that she promised Levy $100 for certain testimony, which he failed to furnish, and that the $31 was paid to him because he said he was poor. M. G. Cobb, Mrs. Piercy's attorney, moved for a nonsuit on the ground that the agreement with Levy was against good morals and public policy, as having a tendency to produce the subornation of witnesses, the presumption being that the sum might be to purchase testimony, and not to hunt up legitimate witnesses. Justice Pennie took the motion under advisement.

The case of Sumner W. Bugbee vs. H. H. Bancroft, A. L. Bancroft and Wm. H. Knight, is on trial before Judge Wilson, of the Superior Court. This action is based on a complaint which sets forth that during the year 1877 A. D. Hatch organized an association for the purpose of holding a State Musical Convention in Metropolitan Temple the following September. The association appointed a Board of Directors to manage the Convention. Among other acts of the managers they secured the services of Myron W. Whitney, a basso singer of Boston, Mass., agreeing to pay him $1,000 and his traveling expenses. He refused to make the trip across the continent unless he had a guarantee that he would receive the remuneration agreed upon. The defendants guaranteed in writing that the singer would receive all the money due him. He sang at the Convention four days, but the Directors as managers of the affair refused to pay him, therefore the action.

Comfort for Uneasy Stomachs.

That incomparable anti-dyspeptic cordial, carminative and appetizer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, yields comfort to the uneasy stomach with a degree of promptitude most gratifying to the victim of indigestion. The eradication of dyspepsia by the Bitters is, of course, accompanied by the disappearance of every one of its multifarious and puzzling symptoms, among which may be mentioned as the most prominent, heartburn, flatulence, abdominal oppression after eating, and sinking at other times, palpitations of the heart, water brash, vertigo, sick headache and nausea. Hostetter's Bitters tone and regulate the various organs which assist in the processes of assimilation, secretion and evacuation, fortify the system against malarious fevers, and develop in the enfeebled system fresh stores of vitality. In efficacy, as in popularity, they surpass any tonic or regulating medicine of the age.

IT is the common observation that the standard of natural health and normal activity, among American women, is being lowered by the influence of false ideas and habits of life, engendered by fashionable ignorance and luxurious living. It is a happy circumstance that Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham has come to the front to instruct and cure the sufferers of her sex.

The New Age (organ of the Odd Fellows) has an article recommending the admission of young men to the lodges at the age of eighteen years, and the argument is made that "eighteen years of age in 1882 is very different from eighteen years of age in 1819."

"Little thanks are due to him who only gives away what is of no use to himself." The thanks of invalids the world over are being showered on the inventor of Kidney-Wort, for it is giving health to all. Kidney-Wort moves the bowels regularly, cleanses the blood, and radically cures kidney disease, gravel, piles, bilious headache, and pains which are caused by disordered liver and kidneys. Thousands have been cured—why should you not try it?

A PURE strengthening tonic, free from whisky and alcohol, cures dyspepsia and similar diseases. It has never been equaled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

IMMINENT PERIL.

A VERY POPULAR AND WELL-KNOWN member of our police force, who has performed duty twelve years at the Union R. R. Depot, on Exchange Place, in Providence, R. I., gives his unsolicited testimony. Hear him:

"I have been dreadfully troubled with disease of the Kidneys and Liver during the past six months; at times I was so severely afflicted that I was unable to stand on my feet, as my feet and lower parts of my legs were very badly swollen; my urinary organs were in a dreadful condition, my blood was in a wretched state, and it had become so impoverished and circulated so poorly that my hands and feet would be cold and numb, and so white as to appear lifeless. I could not rest nights, but was so distressed all over that I could not lie still in bed, but would keep turning and rolling from one side to the other all night, so that I would feel more tired and exhausted in the morning than when I went to bed. My condition became so serious that I was obliged to stop work, and for thirty days I was unable to be on duty. I consulted the best doctors, and tried the numerous medicines and so-called cures, but rapidly grew worse, and was in a sad condition every way, when a long-time valued friend of mine—prominent in this city in a large express company—urged me to try HUNT'S REMEDY, as he had known of wonderful cures effected by it. Upon his representation I obtained two bottles of the REMEDY, and commenced taking it as directed, and greatly to my surprise, in less than twenty-four hours I commenced to feel relieved. I was in an awful condition when I began to take the REMEDY, and had no faith in it; therefore, when I found almost immediate relief, even in one day's use of it, my heart was made glad, and I assure you I continued to take the REMEDY and to improve constantly from day to day. I took it with me on my trip to Maine, for I was bound to have it with me all the time, and the result is that I improved speedily all the time I was away; and ever since my arrival home, which was several weeks ago, I have been on duty every day. I feel first rate, and the swelling of hands, feet and legs have disappeared, and the terrible backache, which used to bother me more than all the rest, troubles me no more, and I sleep splendidly nights, and surely have very excellent and forcible reasons for speaking in praise of HUNT'S REMEDY, for it has made a new man of me. I don't know what I should have done without HUNT'S REMEDY; it is the best medicine that I ever took, and I very gladly recommend it to all who are afflicted with Kidney or Liver disease, or diseases of the urinary organs. Respectfully,

ISAAC W. FAIRBROTHER.
